

Week 5 Questions to consider

Where do you feel the Lord is inviting you to move outside your comfort zone to a place and/or person that may test/stretch/grow your faith and trust?

Do you live at a pace that allows you to be available and interruptible? How would an “unhurried life” assume texture and shape in our life?

How might the Lord be prompting you to simplify your life? In what ways can you respond to the Lord’s invitation to live with less “attachments/stuff/distractions”? Can you enter into that as an invitation to freedom and joy (not fear, guilt, and despair)?

What are the ways you can “plan ahead” (budgeting time and money) for stepping into acts of compassion?

What ministry opportunities has the Lord laid upon your heart when you consider serving compassionately locally and globally? How might you narrow down your focus so you can enter into these ministry relationships more deeply?
